

There are three important people in this museum that are somehow linked to each other.

The aim of this game is to put their names on each vertice of the triangle and write how they were mutually connected.

Erasmus+

